THE OUTLOOK IN NEBRASKA.

Judge Crounse Says It is Bright for Republican Success. Assistant Secretary Crounse has returned today of the political situation in Nebraska, Judge Crounse said:

"The outlook in Nebraska from a republican standpoint is excellent. The republicans never were more in earnest and the campaign is being entered upon with a determination to win. Two years ago, owing to two successive failures of crops—something unprecedented in the state—and the consequent feeling of discontent, Nebraska fell largely into the alliance movement. Again, prohibition and anti-prohibition entered so largely into the campaign that it swallowed up, in a great degree, those issue upon which the two old parties were divided.

"Nebraska which has always been so strongly republican, is today misrepresented in Congress and the republicans are resolved to set the state right.

My office is not to blame for the condition of the law caused by passenger ship flying the flag of the United States. a decision of the courts and the neglect of Congress to take proper action. Up to the time that prosecutions were crippled by this decision the records of the Police Court will show a very large increase in the revenues derived from that class of cases. My course in regard to these prosecutions has been well understood by the Commissioners and accords with their judgment so far as I know. Of course it is not for me to dictate what course the newspapers may take in dealing with public affails, but I submit that it would have been fair said that the Concord will undoubtedly inves-tigate the stories of the removal of the refugees and will report to the department upon all matters concerning the safety of citizens of this country. for The Star, which has criticised so severely the retirement of Mr. Dumont, to have accepted the reasons stated in Mr. Dumont's letter as truthful, instead of ignoring them, and to have consulted with the executive officers of the Dis-trict as to Mr. Dumont's retirement, instead of making it a pretext for a malicious personal at-tack upon the attorney for the District.

"The party is being thoroughly organized and more and better campaign work will be done this year than over before. You may look for a good report from the republicans of the state when the polls shall have been closed."

Judge Crounse has not decided when he will hand in his resignation to enter the gubernabe upon his recommendation, yet the next day he sent for me and insisted upon agvering my official relations with his office. Later he told Messrs. Gleeson, Carson and Bradshaw that I had resigned to accept a better remain in quarantine for five days as a procautionary measure, however. This news created consternation among the passengers and consternation among the passengers and considerable grumbling was indulged in by both officers and passengers.

When the port was opened this morning there were seven steamer's waiting for the action of the doctor, anchored off shore. Soon after two others came in, and before 9 o'clock of 1 had been examined and disposed of, of this number three were from European ports and the rest from coast and South American ports. All of these latter and the freight at steamer Naronic of the White Star line were cleared before 9.30 o'clock. The Naronic was to subjected to a vigorous examination, but being only a freight vessel it was deemed safe to allow her to proceed to her pier. The Veendam reached quarantine at noon.

The Epidemic Abroad.

London, Aug. 30.—The first suspicious case of disease in London is made public today. Ida Samyan, the four-year-old daughter of a couple of Eussian Jews who arrived here from Hamburg on Saturday, was admitted to Lendon Hospital on Sunday suffering with symptoms of Asiatic cholera. Inquiry made at the hospital today regarding her condition was met with the statement that she shows no improvement. Her parents have not been affected by the Extensive measures have been taken by the Extensive measures have been taken by the East End hospitals to meet any demand that may be made upon them in event of an extensive outbreak of cholera in London. Wards have been specially set apart for the reception of cholera patients and the strictest rules have been formulated to keep patients and their attendants isolated. The sanitary authorities tendants isolated. The sanitary authorities have in nowise relaxed their vigilance. Every, day the lostging houses are subjected to a rigid inspection, and it may truthfully be said that they were never in a better sanitary condition. This inspection will be kept up as long as there is any danger from cholern. As it is well known that overripe fruit is a cource of cholera there is a strict watch kept to be that all fruit is in prime condition. Today the health authorities made a descent upon the Covent Garden market and found many tons of unsound fruit exposed for sale. It was all either the cholera plague abroad or the unconfirmed report that the disease has appeared in Havana, one of the ports from which this vessel comes. It is customary during the summer months to detain all vessels from Cuban ports at quarantine until five days have clapsed from the time of their departure.

Dr. Jenkins has received no official notice of the outbreak of cholera in Havana and will take no action in the matter until more substantial authority for the alleged outbreak is received. The Yucaton sailed from Havana four days ago and, according to her officers, there was then no suspicion of cholera anywhere in Cuba.

The most conflicting reports as to the extent of the epidemic in Hamburg have been published. Hamburgers are treated like lepers elsewhere in Germany. Hotel doors are shut in their faces and it is impossible for them to get lodgings. Many of them have been known to alight from the railroad trains a few stations before reaching Berlin and to come into the city by local trains, in order to avoid inspection.
